

beating residents with wooden poles, bulldozing and burning shelters and firing tear gas into a health clinic, residents and aid workers reported."

Mr. President, your strong leadership has brought us close to a just peace in Sudan. The Government of Sudan has been given plenty of chances to prove itself a worthy partner in peace-- and it has failed to do so. This is the same government that provided sanctuary to Osama bin Laden, committed genocide in the Nuba Mountains, engaged in scorched earth policies in Upper Nile, and now is pursuing a campaign of terror Darfur. It is only a matter of time before it commits another genocide elsewhere in Sudan. We must avoid the mistakes made during the Rwanda genocide. We should not wait to apologize for our inaction in Darfur ten years from now; we must act now and hold accountable those responsible for this crime.
